BLAST OFF!
I can initiate activities. I can take a risk, engage in new experiences, and learn by trial and error.	I can engage in open-ended activities. I can show curiosity about objects, events and people.	I can take on a role in my play. I can act out experiences with other people.	I enjoy meeting challenges for my own sake rather than external rewards or praise. I am proud of how I accomplished something – not just the end result.	I can show high levels of energy and fascination. I can pay attention to detail.	I can persist with an activity when challenges occur.	I can find ways to solve problems.	I can develop ideas of grouping, sequences, cause and effect.	I can plan, make decisions about how to approach a task, solve a problem and reach a goal.
I can seek out challenge.	I can use my senses to explore the world around me.	I can pretend objects are things from my experience.	I can show satisfaction in meeting my own goals.	I am not easily distracted.	I can show a belief that more effort or a different approach will pay off.	I can think of ideas.	I can make predictions. I can test my ideas.	I can change strategy as needed. I can review how well my approach worked.
I can show a 'can do' attitude.	I can show a particular interest.	I can represent my experiences in play.	I can take a risk, engaging in new experiences.	I can maintain focus on my activity for a period of time.	I can bounce back after difficulties.	I can find new ways to do things.	I can make links and notice patterns in my experience.	I can check how well my activity is going.
